AS BAY VOLUNTEER FIREMEN ORGANIZE

Bay fire volunteers organize

Initial meeting of a volunteer fire company for Bay St. Louis took place last Wednesday with Lucien W. Kidd, city civil defense director, chosen as temporary chief.

Harold Soucier was named assistant chief and Victor Frankiewicz secretary-treasurer. Two committees also were chosen to lay the groundwork for the group which will augment the regular city force. Named to draft by-laws and a constitution were Gilbert Goyette, Ben Hille, Jr., and John W. Smith.

The membership committee will be composed of G. W. Minnick, Ken Stieffel, Jake Ramage and Joe Bermond. Arrangements also were discussed for training sessions in conjunction with other groups on the coast.

Owners air appraisal complaints

Negotiation and appraisal methods of the federal government in securing the buffer zone Mississippi Test Operations were reviewed before about 200 landowners at a meeting called Saturday night at Logtown School by the Property Owners Committee.

Asa McQueen, chairman, brought the group up to date on committee progress since its organization almost a year ago while committee men August Holman discussed what he called inequities of appraisals, pointing to some cases in contrast.

He also reported on a telephone conversation with Senator John Stennis, quoting the senator as saying he used every method to encourage the Corps of Engineers, land acquisition agent.

Summit pastor gets call to 1st Baptist

Rev. Flurry Baxter Green, native of Dothan, Ala., assumed his duties this week as pastor of First Baptist Church of Bay St. Louis, coming here from Summit where he has been pastor at Mook's Creek Church since 1960.

Announcement of his selection was made by Frank Pike, chairman of the deacons, and Mike Necaise, chairman of the pulpit committee. The post has been vacant some 18 months since Dr. Franklin Atkinson resigned to go to a New Orleans pastorate.

The call was extended unconditionally to Mr. Green at the April 21 service and he accepted. In addition to Necaise and Pike, members of the pulpit committee have been Dan M. Russell, Jr., Dr. B. L. Ramsey, Sidney Ball, James Fillingame and A. H. Gregory.

Born May 10, 1934, in Dothan he was raised in Panama City, Fla., and was baptized there in 1946. He entered the gospel ministry in 1952 and was ordained to preach in 1958.

The new pastor was educated in Panama City schools, graduating in 1952, and received his BA in religion from Baylor University in 1956 with a minor in English. He then enrolled at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Ft. Worth, Tex., and

Short $$ bother addition at HNC

A revision in materials for the four-classroom addition to the elementary section of Hancock North Central School to bring the project cost closer to available funds for its construction apparently occupied the county board of education during a 30-minute secret session last Thursday.

Closed with board members and Superintendent K. G. McCarty during that period were William Bond of Piquette, successful bidder on the project, Architect Dalton Shards of Mississippi City and Roy Seal, Piquette attorney.

A special meeting subsequently was called for 2 p.m. today to consider change orders for the job. McCarty also asked the board to postpone until that time repayment of a $11,000 loan from the building fund to district funds in event some other matters can be worked out.

Payment of $428.89 in bills dealing with athletics at Hancock North Central were approved after having been held for study and explanation at a previous meeting and the board gave HNC Principal J. D. Penton a verbal green light to allow political rallies to be held on the grounds as a fund raising measure. Board President Charles B. Murphy recalled that four years ago when the school was brand new a policy forbidding such use had been instituted. Trustee S. P. Powell cautioned Penton to keep such rallies under his supervision.

Penton observed cost of sports events cuts considerably into revenue from that source so it is difficult to be self-sustaining without other sources of money. Trustee E. P. Orte commented that while the board would pay this batch of bills the school should take care of its own in the future. It was noted that amount budgeted for athletics is for all the schools of the system.

Some 100 construction and labor representatives assembled at the Martham Hotel, Gulfport, yesterday to work two days of meetings to begin to advance agreements on wages, hours and working conditions to prevail during construction of the Mississippi Test Operations in Hancock County scheduled to commence soon. A three-year labor-industry agreement is sought.

The meeting was called at the request of the President's Mobile Site Labor Committee and is the first time the federal government has sponsored such a meeting prior to awarding con-

Citizen group asks 7 zoning changes

Most of a three-hour meeting of the Bay St. Louis Planning Commission Tuesday night was spent listening to seven changes in its tentative land use map for the city proposed by the Citizens Development and Expansion Committee and the reasoning of the organization.

The meeting, attended by about 15 people in addition to the planning commission, heard Wilson Webre present the following proposals:

Enlarge the area on Railroad Avenue opposite the L and N station zoned for light industry to include the south side of the street between Hancock Street to Ballentine and thence to the railroad. Most of this area had been shown as multi-family residential.

Have the water side of Front Street from State Street to railroad zoned for business as is planned for the opposite side instead of residential and to add to this zone the area now occupied by Merchants Bank, Merchants Insurance Agency and Bill's Dollar Store.

Establish a business district from the city limits to the intersection of Main Street and Dunbar Avenue and thence to St. John Street.

Make the Uman Avenue area from the city limits to Front Street a business zone and classify 13-1 the property at Uman and Dunbar where Monitor Panel is located.

Enlarge the business zone proposed for U. S. 90 and the western boundary of the city to include both sides of 90 from city limit to city limit and extend it to the north to include much of the marsh land along Magnolia Branch east of Dunbar.

Make North Beach from Boardman Avenue north multi-family residential instead of R-1 and provide a small business area along the west side of Dunbar from Boardman to Thomas Street.

Webre and other members of his committee emphasized to the planning commission that they advocated zoning but felt that unless changed the commission's zoning proposals would

Tradesmen ask codes in plumbing

Charleston Lachner of Waveland was elected temporary chairman of a group of men in the plumbing and heating industry in the Bay-Waveland-Lakeshore area at a meeting last Thursday at Broadview Restaurant.

The group unanimously approved a resolution calling for the adoption of a plumbing code for the municipalities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland and by the board of supervisors of Hancock County.

A committee to draft a code was appointed by Lachner and their recommendations will be studied and ratified at the next general meeting of the newly formed organization.

Present at the organizational meeting of the group were H. Lee Ferrell, John C. Chevis, Henry Mont, Howard Carver, Warren Carver, John Mont, Joseph N. Benvenutti, Anthony Benvenutti III, Lew Mont, Vladimir Fuchich, Jr., and Charleston Lachner. Joseph H. Benvenutti, local attorney, acted as legal counsel for the group.

The next meeting was set for Thursday, May 16, at 7 p.m. at Broadview. Anyone engaged in the plumbing and heating business in the county is welcome.

Michael Egan gets area ARA position

A transplanted Bay St. Louisian is the new southern Mississippi coordinator for the Commerce Department's Area Redevelopment Administration, M. F. Egan, Marylander by birth, whose wife, the former Miss Elsie Smith of Bay St. Louis and children live at 602 South Beach, will have his office in Jackson as soon as he winds up his business in Athens, Ga., where he has been located as a regional coordinator for the same governmental agency.

Egan told the Echo that he is looking forward to being able to help the counties and cities in southern Mississippi receive federal assistance under ARA's program.

Scafide seeks senate, Lee, Egloff announce

JOHN A. SCAFIDE

FRANCIS W. (GOAT) LEE

T. W. (TOMMY) EGLOFF

Three more candidates joined the field for the August Democratic primaries this week as the June 7 deadline drew a little closer.

Issuing formal announcements were Mayor John A. Scafide of Bay St. Louis who is seeking the State Senate seat; Francis W. (Goat) Lee of Leavenworth, running for state representative from Hancock County; and T. W. (Tommy) Egloff of the Bay, seeking the office of sheriff and tax collector.

Scafide, now in his third term as mayor, is fifth to come forth for the senate seat which Hancock and Pearl River Counties will share. He has been considering seeking the office for some time. Vice president of the Mississippi Municipal Assn., he is a graduate of St. Stanislaus College and was a football great during his years at Tulane University. He taught school and coached sports before going into municipal government.

Lee, presently on the faculty of Gulfview School at Lakeshore, is the first to come out for Hancock's seat in the house of representatives. He served two years as representative from 1944 to 1952 and ran for tax assessor four years ago.

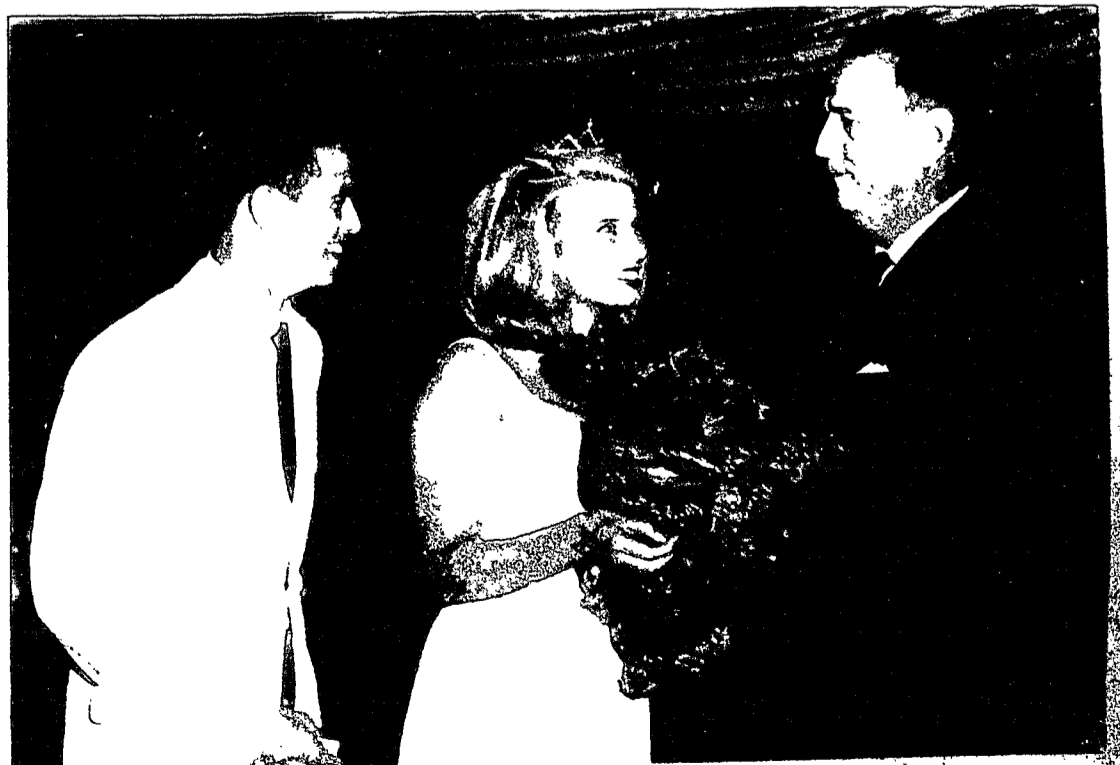

Egloff is in the butane gas business in Bay St. Louis. His brother, John, previously served as sheriff and his father was identified for many years with the government of this city. With his announcement there are now five candidates out for the law enforcement-tax collection post.

Forest fires bad at Sellers

More than 90 acres of good timber south of Sellers were destroyed last week by the biggest fire of the season, according to Glen Purvis, area forester. The fire, started in 25 or 30 places, was obviously the work of an arsonist, he added.

With about 500 forest fires already this is the worst season in several years, Purvis said. The forester also believes most of the other fires have been set by arsonists, many of whom he thinks are people angry at being displaced by NASA's Mississippi Test Operation or mad at the lumber companies because they won't sell their lands.

He also believes that the fires along the county's east edge are set by Harrison County property owners to get cattle from open range Hancock County to go into Harrison County where they can be fenced in.

Guerrilla warfare training offers odd menu for Lather

Armedillo, rattlesnake or racoon might have been on the menu for Army Pfc. Troy J. Lather, son of Troy Lather, Pico-yuna, if he could have caught one.

Lather, with other members of the 2d Armored Division, recently completed seven weeks training in guerrilla fighting and survival techniques on a special reaction course at Fort Hood, Tex.

The soldiers spent a week on the course in turns. The 60 hours of training included bridge demolition, cliff climbing, hand-to-hand combat and survival techniques like catching dinner.

The 20-year-old soldier, whose mother, Leola Jordan, lives in Pico-yuna, is a driver in Co. E of the division's 17th Engineer Battalion at Fort Hood.

Lather is a graduate of George W. Carver High School.

Candidate for STATE REPRESENTATIVE HANCOCK COUNTY

TO THE PEOPLE OF HANCOCK COUNTY

Please accept this as my formal announcement for my candidacy for State Representative of Hancock County.

I was born and reared in Hancock County and have been working in this county for the major portion of the last 20 years.

I am present I am employed as a teacher in Gulfview School at Lakeshore. I have taught in Pine Top, Sellers, Leetown and Gulfview prior to coming to Gulfview.

I am a graduate of Kila High School, Pearl River Junior College and have attended the University of Southern Mississippi.

I was your representative in the State Legislature from 1944 to 1952 and did not offer for reelection at that time.

After having been asked by many of my friends to enter the race, I decided to do so.

It is my desire to do the best for the most people, especially the children in the way of making Hancock County a better place to rear, educate and find local employment for them.

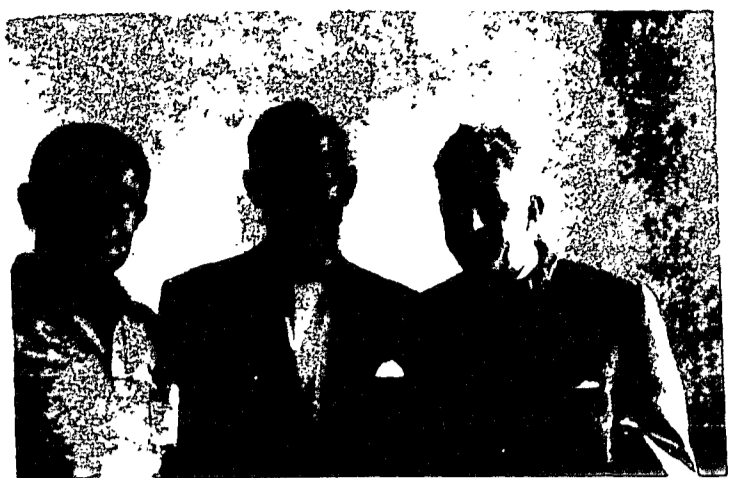

I am hoping to see each of you personally before August 7th.

I sincerely beg for your vote and support.

Your Friend,

FRANCIS W. (GOAT) LEE

Heitzmann wins Gayle Hale state KC office and airman are to marry

George E. Heitzmann of Bay St. Louis was elected state treasurer of the Knights of Columbus at its annual convention last weekend in Meridian, representing the Pere LaDuc Council and 4th District which includes the Bay, Pass Christian and Long Beach councils were Heitzmann, district deputy, Grand Knight Curtis Matherne and Chester J. Favre, lecturer and council activity chairman.

Bishop Richard O. Gerow of Natchez-Jackson was reappointed to a 45th term as state chaplain, having missed only one convention in those years.

Rev. Bernard Haddican, former assistant at Our Lady of the Gulf Church here and now assistant pastor in Hattiesburg, was named chaplain of the Columbian Squires, youth group of the KCs. He is the first so named in the Mississippi jurisdiction.

Councils of the state presented the bishop with checks exceeding $7,400 including $600 from Pere LaDuc Council, toward his priest education fund. This is the largest sum ever given and included $75 from the lone Columbian Squires Circle in Hattiesburg founded by Father Haddican.

LAKE SHORE LOG

BY MRS. MALCOLM GREEN

The annual cancer drive is underway in the county and our local workers, Mrs. Belle Peterson and Mrs. Louise Charbonnet, captained by Mrs. Rae Rasmussen, will soon call on each of us for a donation. Pete and Pat Yarbrough, young twins of Edward and Effie, started this rolling with the entire amount in their piggy bank. Let's hope we adults do as well.

Gulfview School 4-H club presented their prize winning playlet, Reunion in Wonderland, last Friday evening in the school gym. Following the play, a cake walk was given by the school co-op club.

This Tuesday Francis Lee took his 2nd and 3rd grade students to Memorial Park in the Pass, for their annual picnic.

Thursday night our youngest, Mary Elizabeth (Sandy) had to be admitted to Hancock General with severe abdominal pains. She has been undergoing a series of tests and is taking it all with out complaint.

Brenda Howard, Gulfview 7th grader, was injured last week when accidentally struck with a baseball bat by her brother, Ronnie, during a school yard game. She has been under a doctor's care since due to the loss of blood and head injuries.

Get well wishes to Mrs. Ernest Corco who is ill in our local hospital; also little Audrey Kennedy, daughter of Emmett and Rose, who is also a hospital patient.

I'd like to find a good home for two pointer blue hounds, one girl and a boy. Any one interested please call.

Miss Linda Fricke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John (Buddy) Fricke, has been named valedictorian of the Gulfview graduating class. Salutatorian will be Melva Dean McCordie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McCordie. On May 10 the graduating class will spend the day at Bay High.

Congratulations to Mrs. Leola Stoufflet and Mrs. Elma Lader who have been reappointed to run our school lunchroom, to George (Bert) Lader who will continue to run the bus, and his wife Dot who remains as custodian.

This Friday all children who plan to enter the 1st grade of Gulfview are asked to come prepared to spend the day.

Mrs. Floyd Green and daughters, Mrs. Emelda Smith, Mrs. William Hudson and Lynne Marie gave a birthday party Sunday afternoon for husband and father Matt. Happy Birthday.

If Lakeshore residents have missed seeing George Gendy walking along the seawall, it's because he is busy working in a big garden in the back part of Clermont Harbor. Our garden is thriving and I expect to have fresh snapbeans and smothered young squash as soon as I can get home from the hospital to cook them.

Diane Stoufflet is now employed at the very attractive new home on U. S. 90.

Mrs. Dorothy Vairin, LPN, is one a nice motor trip to Tampa and St. Petersburg, Fla., accompanied by Mrs. Rita Cuz.

Late but hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wheelan who have a granddaughter born to their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wheelan of Vincennes, Ind.

Our deepest sympathy to the family of Rodney Bennett who expired suddenly last week.

Speak up Charlie

When the Mississippi Economic Council asked the apparent gubernatorial candidates to avoid the race question during the campaign only Mr. Charles L. Sullivan refused. The reason given by MEC for its request was that such an issue in the campaign might have an adverse effect on efforts to attract industry to the state.

Certainly it is possible that flamboyant and demagogic ranting about this question would cause industrial leaders to avoid Mississippi. Nevertheless, the race question is the most important one of the campaign. It should not be avoided, not only in fairness to the voters but in fairness to the industrialists to whom MEC wants to appeal.

No head of an industry would consider putting a plant in an area without public schools, but Mississippi may well have no public schools within the next couple of years depending on the views of the governor and legislature to be elected this year.

Will our next governor close our schools and public-supported colleges to promote peace and tranquility in the event of court ordered integration? He can. Will he advocate legislation aimed at ameliorating the distress that must necessarily accompany any integration of our schools? If so, what legislation?

Yes, Mr. Sullivan, tell us your plans for our public schools if efforts are made to integrate them, and try to push your opponents into doing the same.

Who's mixed up

The states and local governments are too poor to provide adequate education says Mr. Anthony F. Celebrezze, secretary of health, education and welfare, and consequently the federal government must give aid to public education. Depending on the direction from which you look this proposition of Mr. Celebrezze is ludicrous, asinine, makes sense or brings up many entangled propositions.

How can our states, cities and counties be any poorer than our $300 billion debtor federal government? Ludicrous, ain't it. And after all the same people pay the taxes that support all our governments.

As long as the federal government must tax so heavily to pay for its many activities, the states and local governments just can't tax much more so they can't raise the money needed for new schools, more teachers and higher pay. Yes, the localities just don't have the money to provide adequate education for our youth. Simple, isn't it.

Now to get to the real essence of the whole proposition of federal financial assistance to localities, whether for education, sewers, urban renewal, or whatnot seems to us to demand a course in psychology of voters and taxpayers. Over the past 30 years the voters and taxpayers seem to have developed either a preference for paying taxes to the central government, notwithstanding they really have more control of expenditures by the local officials and notwithstanding there is necessarily some additional cost in having these tax moneys first handled by the federal government and then returned to the local government for expenditure.

Possibly local and state officials have encouraged this attitude so they would not have to face the ire of the local voter when local taxes had to be raised. Perhaps the voters and taxpayers trust federal officialdom more than they do city hall. Or perhaps the majority of us believe we can get something for nothing so long as the federal government is involved.

In any event we're tangled up. What about you, Mr. Celebrezze? And you, dear reader?

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo

For something like the last three years I have been treated to the views of many great minds on the matter of raising Bay St. Louis. So may I sound off in support of the general over-all raising ordinance being considered by the City Planning Commission with provision for amendment in the normal manner by petition for change of classification to said commission with a firm plan, public hearing and final action by City Council. We can suppose that some of the current opposition has been engendered by the quadrennial hall-room case of the View Carre.

For many years Bay St. Louis has been a suburban community and will so continue for generations—a suburb of New Orleans and lesser so of Gulfport. Heavy industry we can expect perhaps near Pearlington. It's not very likely to grow here. Present zoning proposals appear aimed at enmeshing residential growth in Bay St. Louis and many suburban cities flourish most successfully—and with stringent zoning regulations—in such a climate. A community which presents an inviting appearance along its major highways such as attractively designed multi-family units might offer, stands a far better chance to land a new customer than one with the Las Vegas type of neon lights in motels, saloons, amusements, etc., or the raggedy aspects of Kramers, L.A.

For those business areas along the beach and the railroad it would seem wise to establish strong regulations to upgrade them. They will continue beyond the lifetime of most of us.

City planners have oft been called unrealistic dreamers. Perhaps they are. Or are dreamers those who violently oppose such theoretical thinking as may put us first on the map?

I am 16 years old and have lived along Pearl River for the past 12 years. Soon we will have to move to make way for the NASA test site, and the river and I will part. In these years, I have fished, swum and boated in the waters of Pearl River and the surrounding waters and streams. We have faced the moving part wall, but even now the Corps of Engineers are making

At the outset Rev. John Coffey, administrator and treasurer of St. Augustine's Seminary, which owns the major part of the U. S. 90 frontage in the city limits, told the commission that the school prefers this area to be zoned for business because if the property were to be sold in the future at a higher price could be realized for it.

Lucien Raymond pointed out to the commission that the only official map of the city for land descriptions was one prepared by the late Drake and the map being used for zoning purposes was not based on Drake's. He suggested the zoning map be made to conform with Drake's to avoid confusion and offered his assistance and the use of his maps.

Fred Wagner, chairman of the planning commission, told those present that changes were still being made in the proposed zoning ordinance and pointed out that at the commission's last meeting most of the time was spent trying to draft the duties of the board of adjustment which will be established if a zoning ordinance is adopted.

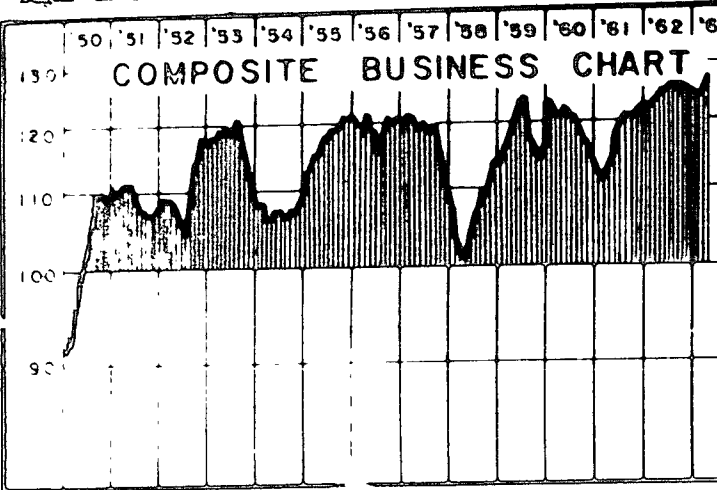

Commission members present for the meeting were Wagner, Howard Adams, E. M. Briggance, Andy Becker, Henry Chapman and James Fillingame as was Robert Bateman, planning consultant engineer. Next meeting is set for 7:30 p.m., May 7 at City Hall.

By Roger Babson's staff How's business?

Business activity proceeded under a full head of steam during April. Our Composite Business Curve spurred ahead to a new peak reading of 127.5. The significant aspect, however, was the accelerating rate of advance in the past two months. The drifting pattern of business which began in the summer of 1962 to insure adequate supplies for the peak selling season. But these two key industries have not shouldered the burden alone. Machinery, appliances, apparel, and nonferrous metals also chipped in with support, while paperboard, chemicals, and building materials held up well. To cap the rosy picture, retail changed to an upturn in February March then showed a genuine burst of strength. And April trod on an even more impressive gain. Bear in mind that the upturn of this barometer reflects increments above the seasonal norm and progress exceeding the normal growth rate of the economy.

Steel production continued to provide dynamic leadership. The weekly index of steel output finally showed a plus sign compared with year-ago activity. More important, rising steel production this year is a favorable force in contrast to the downward trend in 1962.

Another strong point has been the high rate of automobile production. Our put of new cars has shown remarkable staying power. Full credit for this must be given to the unrelenting high rate of consumer new-car purchases. Thus, even though inventories in dealers' hands are above the crucial million mark, producers are keeping the throttle wide open

Spring Branch breaks ground for new church

The history of Spring Branch Missionary Baptist Church since its formation on Sept. 1, 1943, was presented by Mrs. Yvonne Holden Becker, first clerk of the church, at ceremonies Sunday in conjunction with ground breaking for the new building in Pearlington.

The first building was a $600 one at Napoleon. The present one, built at a cost of $10,000 is three miles from there and the 60-member congregation now will build a $20,000 structure to replace the sanctuary being condemned for the NASA test site.

About 295 persons attended the combination homecoming at the present site and ground-breaking at the future one, Rev. L. S. Walker, who delivered the first message, was among those present and Rev. August Holden, present pastor, called on Paul Daniels for his message at the Pearlington site and turned the first shovel. Rev. J. W. Miller of Mobile was speaker for the day and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Cuevas led the singing.

The momentum built up thus far assures a continued high level of economic activity for a while longer. The pattern beyond midyear, however, will be determined largely by developments on the labor front.

Bay High choral concert Tuesday

The annual Bay High spring choral concert is scheduled Tuesday at 8 p.m. Both the boys and girls choruses, totaling about 50 voices, will perform under the direction of Mrs. Toy Tedford.

Soloists will be Janet Strong, Shennandoah; Richard Schaefer, Go Down Moses; and Devey Smith, The Happy Wanderer. Mrs. Carl Smith will be accompanist.

Smith said he also will study turning over to the county the section of old U. S. 90 west of the Bay and paralleling the present highway from the scales to 43 so state and local funds might be used to improve it for four-lane use. He added that four-laning of 90 west to 43 is the first project he has programmed for 1964.

JOIN SHERIFF'S FORCE

Robert H. Coleman has returned to duty on the sheriff's force, serving as radio operator on the 10 a.m. to 6 a.m. shift and as night sergeant, Lester Hoyer of Pearlington is on 6 a.m. to 2 p.m. duty, formerly handled by Sheriff Price on a stand-by basis.

Zoning...

"strangle" the business growth of Bay St. Louis. In relation to property along U. S. 90 several of the businessmen said that making this residential instead of business would mean that the city would lose to Harrison County the money that many tourists might spend here because of no accommodations for them near the city's primary attraction, the water.

At the outset Rev. John Coffey, administrator and treasurer of St. Augustine's Seminary, which owns the major part of the U. S. 90 frontage in the city limits, told the commission that the school prefers this area to be zoned for business because if the property were to be sold in the future at a higher price could be realized for it.

VIPP Very Interesting People and Places By Rae Cope Mortgage party

Shielded by a dense wall of verdant greenery, tall brick pillars hold wide iron gates of artistic design which swing open for the entrance of guests to one of the most artistic and beautiful spots in Waveland, Happy Ours, home of Miss Chic Goodby and Miss Eva Jacobs, career girls whose farsighted vision led them to its purchase ten years ago, since which time they have devoted every weekend, holiday and vacation toward its remodeling and beautification. Theirs is an accomplishment other career women should emulate with thoughts of retirement in mind.

Friends from near and far have contributed many lovely things for their home such as lamps, paintings and exotic plants. One built them a winding brick walk which leads from the gates through and around beds of rare imported amaryllis now in full bloom. One bed bordered with red salvia shows up with marked contrast to the lush fresh green of a loquat, following the curved walk one arrives at the multi-colored black paved patio, where Sunday, April 21, friends who had watched Happy Ours develop gathered by invitation to watch the burning of the mortgage.

Chic and Eva knelt before a brazier in the center of the patio and watched the mortgage burn to a dull black ash, after which, with suitable ceremony the ashes were placed in a graceful urn to repose on their mantle.

Besides being skilled gardeners and landscape designers Eva and Chic are great culinary artists as well as was attested to by the appreciative guests who relished the luscious baked turkey, ham, potato salad and other delectables prepared by them.

Their guests for the burning of the mortgage party included Audrey Johnston and Vertus F. Rutell of Alexandria, La., Eleanor Twilley of Pineville, La., Mrs. J. E. Rutell, William Fischer, Mrs. Irene Curren, Eloise H. Mack, Dr. James Wall, Leslie Clark, Ralph Workman, Dea A. Bietterick, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Lavigne, Mrs. Lillian Ricker, Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Levy, all of New Orleans; Ray Scott and James Woodruff of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jacob and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holm, both of Waveland and New Orleans; Lou Bill Hero of New Orleans and Clormont Harbor; Kathleen Rutell, assistant U. S. attorney, John Threest of Brand Bay, Ala., and from Clormont Harbor Mr. and Mrs. William Tonglet, Mrs. All at Riecker and Mrs. Rae Cope. Also attending was Miss Mae, the four-legged lady.

Harry hears... Majors card some surprises

With three full weeks of the 1963 major league baseball season gone by, several surprises have already occurred. Dark horses are leading both the National and American Leagues, the all-time major league record for batters in one season has been surpassed, and low-scoring games have taken the spotlight a way from the long ball hitters.

St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates are the talk of the well-balanced National League. The Redbirds for the second straight season have started as if they'll make a runaway of the pennant race while the Bucs, although they traded away half the stars of their squad for almost nothing, just refuse to lose.

We picked Los Angeles to win the title—the Dodgers have started in pitiful fashion but it's still early. The Cardinals are going to be hard to beat, however, with their tremendous starting team and good young pitching staff. If the Card mound corps of Ernie Broglio, fireballing Bob Gibson, lefties Curt Simmons and Ray Sadecki, and potential twenty-game winner Ray Washburn holds up, they'll go all the way. If not, watch the Dodgers. We look for Pittsburgh to fade within the next two weeks.

Kansas City and Baltimore have exchanged the American League lead but neither has the material to stay there. Unless Detroit, our choice, or Los Angeles Angels get better mileage out of their supposedly strong mound staffs, it looks like another crown for the Yankees. We don't know about you, but we're already tired of watching New York on television!

Balks or rules

Big controversy to date has been the amazing number of balks called by umpires in the National League. Over 80 have been spotted by the men in blue, breaking the all-time league record of 76. We won't go along with most of baseball's so-called "expert" critics on the situation — as long as a rule is being broken, the infractions should be called. The rule involved implies that a pitcher, while hurrying from a stretch position, must come to a full-second halt before delivering to the plate. If baseball's leaders don't like the way umpires are enforcing the matter, they should erase it from the books. What's a rule book for anyway?

(P.S. — Don't ask us to explain why only two balks had been called in the American League before this week.)

Dupas finally wins a crown

Ralph Dupas finally realized an ambition Monday night in the Crescent City when he won a world's championship after two tries. Ralph won a split decision from Oregon's Denny Moyer for the junior middleweight title.

A host of local fans attended and were also impressed by the showing of Ray Wilmore, Biloxi boy making his first professional appearance. Wilmore, who boxed in the recent Bay Boxing Club Invitational, scored an early knockout victory in one of the preliminaries.

Buck Price, head man at Bay Boxing, accompanied several of his young fighters to see the big match. Jay Warner, Johnny Favre, Emile Bourgeois, Donnie Bilbo, Donald Marquar, Jr., along with his dad, and Frank Bateford made the trip.

Frank and Jennie Trapani, Joe Benvenuti, Al Summy, Luke Marich, Gussie Cuevas, Ray Gates, Bernard Bourgeois, Tiger Genin, Slim Ladner and numerous others also were on hand.

Side Bars

Tackle Billy Pahlman last week became the second Bay High senior to ink a football scholarship, signing with Pearl River Junior College. Teddo Thomas several months ago was awarded a scholarship to LSU.

St. Stanislaus put in a creditable showing in the District 8 track and field meet at Biloxi Saturday, finishing fifth behind four larger Big 8 schools in the 15-team field. Bay High was 11th and although the Tigers didn't enter too many events, some observers feel the gala Junior-Senior Prom at Bay High the previous evening did little to aid BHS chances.

SCOOP — Watch for Leo Darocher to replace Walter (Smoky) Alston as manager of the LA Dodgers in the very near future if the West Coast club doesn't improve in a hurry. Alston has been in the hot seat for quite some time and just might be relaxing in a rocking chair before much longer!

Ole Miss's golf team has compiled a 5-2 record and is 3-1 in the Southeastern Conference this season. Bay St. Louis' Robert Genin a junior, has added the Rev victories, which include two sizeable triumphs over arch-rival Mississippi State. St. Stanislaus's newly-formed links team was cancelled out of its debut Monday with Biloxi to be the first golf contest among local high schools.

Two Bay High students were among those performing well in the Gulf Coast conference tennis tournament last weekend. De-fending boys' champion Richard Schaefer lost in the finals 3-6, 6-2, 4-6 to Harrison Central's Bobby Webb, a Schaefer victim last year. Ellen McDonald lost 1-6, 1-6 to Pass Christian's Kathy Cook, eventual girls' queen, in the semi-final round.

The annual Kentucky Derby holds the gazes of much of the sports population Saturday. This year's field seems to be one of the best and most-balanced in history. The best bets are Candy Spots, No Robbery, and Never Bend. Our choice: Never Bend.

Young Terry Markel rolled a neat 204 game last week to aid Rea's teen-age boys team in establishing a new high team series in the history of the Strikeouts League. Peggy Givens upheld girls' standards, scoring 170-plus and 158 games to help the Echo mixed

What with world's pole vaulting records being broken and re-broken almost every week, participants in the sport pretty soon are going to have to start worrying whether or not their parachutes will open!

Johnny Gibrant, tall former St. Stanislaus student whom most basketball fans of this area well remember, had his district 8 A-AA high jump record smashed last week. Jimmy Farmer of Pascagoula jumped 6' 2" to better Gibrant's 5' 11" standard set in 1957.

Tigers in 2nd for circuit track crown

Long Beach staged a surprise win of the Gulf Coast Conference track and field championship last Tuesday at Perkinson Junior College with 63 1/2 points. Bay High finished second with 45 1/2. Pass Christian scored 40, St. Martin 36 1/2, and Harrison Central 36 1/2.

Billy Pahlman of Bay High established a new conference record in the 440-yard dash with a heave of 42' 3". The Tiger 440-yard relay team also set a league record with a victory since this is the first year the event has been recognized. Johnny Penton, Teddo Thomas, Tim Fagen, and Don Everett ran the 440 in 47.6.

The 440 mile relay team of Wordie Carroll, Thomas, Everett, and Fagen won that event with a 3:52.7 clocking. Coach Wilmer Sevmour's thinclads also piled up three seconds, two thirds, three fourths, and a fifth place but fell short to Long Beach.

Bay boxers host Pas Wednesday

Bay Boxing Club will meet Pascagoula at 8 p.m. Wednesday at A and G Theater here in a series of return matches. Pascagoula won seven of ten matches from the locals Saturday night there.

Ten bouts are slated and contestants will be announced at ringside. Admission will be 50¢ for students and $1 for adults.

Harvey Mitchell, 140 lbs., Donnie Bilbo, 145 lbs., and Jay Warner, 75 lbs., scored victories for Buck Price's boys in Saturday's losing team effort. Bilbo scored a decision over South Mississippi Golden Gloves Champion Dalton Rogers while Mitchell scored a second round TKO. Warner won via the decision route.

Others from the Bay boxing were: Burt Asher, Orville Ferrell, Lester Dougherty, Donald Marquar, Johnny Favre, E. J. Santinelli, and Emile Bourgeois. Bourgeois lost a close decision to Eric Luke in the main event of the night.

S. E. "SI" CORLEY FOR RE-ELECTION COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE

TO THE PEOPLE OF MISSISSIPPI: I hereby announce for re-election as Commissioner of Agriculture, subject to the will of the people, August 16, 1963.

In asking the people to re-elect me as their Commissioner of Agriculture, I do so strictly on my own record without obligation to any individual, group or faction. My total obligation is to the people of Mississippi. The energy and ability that I possess is dedicated to their welfare.

With Krankey on the mound

Tiger 9 wins 2

Regaining their early-season form, Bay High won an 8-6 Gulf Coast Conference baseball victory over Long Beach last Thursday afternoon, then traveled outside the conference to whip Pearl River Central in Carriere 7-0 Friday.

Catch Lance Lumpkin's Tigers tallied four times in the seventh and final inning to edge Long Beach on the latter's field. The Bea. cars rolled for two in the last of the seventh but were stopped short.

Don Soucier capped a homer and two singles in four trips to the plate to share hitting honors with freshman Mike Strong who collected three singles in as many hits. Sam Allison was 2-4 for the Bengals and Dick Watts and Danny Krankey each had one safe blow.

Krankey was the winning pitcher after relieving starter Gary Hess in the sixth inning.

Friday the Tigers had no trouble winning their second triumph over Pearl River Central. A steady hitting attack backed the excellent shutout pitching of Krankey who went the route on the mound. Bay High returns to action Friday afternoon against Gulf Coast Conference leader Ocean Springs there. The '63 season finale is slated for Tuesday at St. Martin in Biloxi.

Forestry dean is

speaker at Rotary

Dr. Robert Clapp, dean, school of forestry, at Mississippi State University, spoke to Rotary Club last week on accreditation of schools of forestry. Explaining the useful purpose served by professional accreditation, he also listed the three deficiencies in his school, all time and money can obliterate, a goal he believes can be crossed in a few years.

Dr. Clapp paid tribute to Hancock County J. Roland Weston as the first Mississippian to graduate from a school of forestry, having attended that school at the University of Washington.
